

Peter's Death

one early morning in this quiet town no one expected the sky to fall down right after sunrise there was a loud shot Peter was wounded and died on the spot

Peter the caveman had turned out all crude cursed our society and lived in the nude why he had dropped out has never been known what was the trigger that had his mind blown?

seems that he ambushed the town in the fog armed with a stone knife he hunted a dog killed and then skinned it, prepared it to smoke poor doggie's owner had nearly a stroke is he a maniac desiring our hate? is he a hero confronting our fate?

is he a weirdo ignoring our laws?
is he a symbol recalling our flaws?

once an accountant he followed his mood quit his apartment and stayed in the wood no one could catch on in what he believed though someone killed him the town felt relieved

what was the trigger that had his mind blown?
